A German Co-operative Community Pittsburg Dispatch: The Amana lation of about 2,000, is an illustration of the success of co-operative effort among thrifty Germans. The settlement was begun in 1855 and the colony now owns 25,000 acres of land. The land forms a single township and the people are grouped into seven villages. Each vil lage is a social and industrial unit, and has a definitearen assigned to it for cultivation and pasturage. The government of colony affairs, as a whole, is invested in a board of thirteen trustees while each village has its board of el ders, varying in number from seven in the smallest to eighteen in the largest. The central institution in each village is the "store," which is a large general retail establishment, carrying groceries, drugs, dry goods, clothing, hats and caps, hardware, etc. Its bookkeeping is very elaborate, for, except in dealings with outsiders the colonists do not ordinarily use money. Everything is done by a system of accounts which are kept at the "store." The blacksmith shop and the carpentershop have accounts against the farm department. which are duly recorded on the village books. Every family or adult has an account at the "store," certain credits being apportioned to all members by the elders at the commencement of each year, which are drawn against by purchasers. Boarding houses furnish meals to members in each village in groups of from forty to fifty each. Houses are as-signed to families by the elders, who provide shelter for all. The community conducts a number of mills and man-ufacturing enterprises.

ADDITIONAL COUNCIL BLUFFS

Regular Conneil Meeting. The city council met last evening in regular monthly session. Present, Alderman Lucy in the chair, Aldermen Metcalf, Weaver, Knepher and Waterman, The monthly bills were read and allowed by titles, which was a most agreeable change from the old order, as much time was saved

Invitation to the council to visit the Wo man's Christian hospital Tuesday (to-day), The report of the city engineer respecting the cut on High School avenue opposite the Fulsom estate was read. Mr. Bloomer, as attorney for the estate, appeared and desired that the report shall not state that he, Bloomer, consents to any arrangement between the city and the estate, as the estate is in litigation. The report was referred back to the engineer and city solicitor. The Council Bluffs Driving Park associa-tion was, by resolution, ordered to remove obstructions on Cherry street within twelve

The Manly Art. The opera house was well filled last evening by a gathering who assembled to witness the sparring exhibition between the purilistic talent of this city and Omaha. Prof. Harry H. Leonard, of Omaha, acted as master of ceremonies. The first bout was between Tom Murray, ex-champion middle-weight of the northwest, and Prof. Arthur Rothery, of Omaha. Two home colored pugs, "Cyclone" and "Rainbow", then appeared. The McLaughlin brothers, Tom and Patsey, were the next contestants. These youngsters, who are but ten years of age, are known as "Cloncy's midgets." Quarters and dimes rained on Quarters and dimes rained on the stage, and the boxers for-got their work, threw off their gloves, and devoted themselves to raking in the cash.

Tommie Brooks and Jack Larkins, both of Tommie Brooks and Jack Larkins, both of the Bluffs, were the next aspirants for hon-ors, and the rounds were all good exhibitions of scientific boxing. The next two to don the gloves were Prof. Ed. Rothery, of Omaha, and Harry McCoy, of Rich Hill, Mo. Their work was decidedly lively. Pat Killen, of St. Paul, and Prof. Billy Hawley, of Omaha, were the next to awear. Jack Killett and were the next to appear. Jack Killett and Art. Rothery, of Omaha, then thumped each other in the most approved style. Mr. Young then announced as the event of Barney Smith, of Bridgeport, Conn. It was the ovening a bout between Pat Killen and Barney Smith, of Bridgeport, Conn. It was the only really fine exhibition of the evening. Killen was in excellent form and the pair did some hard slugging. The exhibition was well received, and the receipts were about

Uncle Tom's Hound. Sunday morning the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company checked its baggage, donkey and bloodhounds for Atlantic, via the Rock Island. The donkey was consigned to the tender care of the express messenger, and the muzzled but bloodthirsty hounds were aken in charge by McCarl, the baggageman, who placed them in the rear end of the car. While the train was running to Weston the two slave chasers began to try their chains, snarling and showing their teeth in a most savage manner. Finally the larger and more savage animal broke his chain, rushed for ward and sprang at the throat of the baggageman, tearing his face and clothes in a frightful manner. The express messenger, armed with a heavy poker, came to the res-cue and pounded the brute until he retreated cue and pounded the brute until he retreated to the other end of the car, and a barricade of trunks was quickly thrown up to keep him there, thus possibly saving the life of McCarl. Had not the dog been muzzled, the injuries sustained by the intropid baggageman would doubtless have been very serious, even if he had not been killed outright.

even if he had not been killed outright.

A Cyclone Victim.

A call for the patrol was rung in from the Rock Island passenger depot at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon. On arriving there a woman of about fifty-five years was found, who gave her name as Eliza Watson. She was in a pitiable condition mentally, having had an experience in a cyclone that had unseated her reason. It seems that she was at Chillicothe, O., during the terrible cyclone that visited that place a few months ago, and was blown nearly two miles, being found after the storm had subsided lodged against a treo that had withstood the onslaught of the elements. The poor woman has relatives in Nobresia and was on her way to tole them. Nebraska, and was on her way to join them. She was removed to St. Bernard's hospital, where she will receive proper medical atten-tion and careful nursing, and will probably be able in a few days to continue her journey to her relatives. Her experience was a ter-rible one, and it is no wonder that the brain succumbed to the horrors of that awful trip through the air.

Officers of the Club.

The Council Bluffs club elected the following officers at the meeting last evening: President, S. P. MacConnell; first vice-president, Harry Birkinbine; second vice-president, Bert Evans; treasurer, Dr. Macrae; secretary, E. J. Chapman; executive com-mittee, William Moore, J. M. Freynor, D. F. United at Last.

The deadlock in the school board is broken at last. Architect Ward's plans were adopted at last evening's meeting by a unanimous vote, such plans to be changed as the board may suggest. This is regarded as a compromise, and was the only course which would insure the immediate erection of the school building.

It is really wonderful for purifying and enriching the blood, creating an appetite, and giving a healthy tone to the whole system. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla, which is peculiar to itself.
